A heatmap visualization of the 2010 US Census data for the variable 'number of people in the household'. The color scale ranges from 0 (dark red) to 9 (dark blue), with 'none' at the bottom. The map shows a high concentration of households with 0 or 1 people, particularly in the Northeast and Midwest. There are also significant clusters of households with 2 or 3 people across the country. The map is divided into small geographic units, likely census tracts or blocks.
